Net Changes Small, Owing to Rise Before Decline and Late Rally,

PENNSYLVANIA NOTE ISSUE

Disinclination to Enter Upon Commitments Until After Congress Adjourns.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 15.—To-day's stock market gave signs of falling into the dull and uncertain state which is the rule after the first recovery from such a sharp-break as that which followed the San Francisco property losses. A variety of explanations was found for the heavy tone developed. The fact is that much has been accomplished toward covering up the contracts on the short side of the market which were put out during the period of acute depression of sentiment. The element of restricted capital resources to meet the heavy requirements pressing to secure the supply was brought into prominence to-day by the announcement of the Pennsylvania note issue for $50,000,000. The fact in itself that resort to this form of financing was considered by the most powerful rallroad corporation in the country was of adverse effect on sentiment. The terms of the issue also were unfavorably regarded. While the interest rate on the notes was called 41-2 per cent., the understanding of the price at which they were sold pointed to a yield up to five per cent., while the supposition of a commission in addition to the bankers' bringing out the issue opened the way to an assumpton that the company was paying a still higher rate for the use of the money. The money market gave no reflection of scarcity of funds and rates for time loans continued to be shaded under the influence of offerings from out-of-town sources. The market showed some relief on the announcement of the prompt placing of the Pennsylvania note issue and the intention to keep the proceeds on deposit with the banks. The falling off in the activity of the market was ascribed in part to a disinctination to enter upon stock market commitments until after the adjournment of the Standard Old dividend declaration, which was at the same rate as for the corresponding period of last year, but less than for the preceding quarter of this year. Bearlish traders attempted to couple this with yeaterday's reduction in the dividend of a small subsidiary company of this with yesterday's reduction in the dividend of a small subsidiary company of the Amalgamated Copper Company to form an inference of a sentiment against form an inference of a sentiment against a rise in the market on the part of the powerful financial group interested in these companies. The market had the advantage of a considerable rise before the decline set in and of a late rally again, so that the net changes are small as a rule. The closing tone was firm.

Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $2,75,000. United States 2's declined 1-4 per cent, on call.

The total sales of stocks for the day amounted to 1,116,400 shares.

In answer to a question asked by Mr. Ould, witness replied that no major operations had been performed within the two and a half years he had been here. He said no occasion has arisen on the female side, and that as far as he knew no occasion had arisen on the male side. He said he had performed six or eight or ten major operations at Contral Hospital.

No patient, he said, had died from lack of a major operation. He spoke, he said, only of the female patients.
In answer to a question asked by Dr. Dunn, witness said that the hospital was caughped for practically all operations except abdominal surgery.

Senator Sadier then asked:

It developed that the church affairs and the hospital affairs became very much mixed, said Dr. Southall.

In answer to a question of Chairman Sailer, witness said that he and Dr. Foster had been on unpleasant terms, but that at the request of the board ho made up the difficulty; that he had offended the board by language he used before it, and that later he wrote an apology and was elected second assistant physician. The board, the witness said, objected to him as first assistant physician because he did not carry out the policy of Dr. Foster. Ques. Are not many operations unnecessary?

Ans. Yes, I think so.
Chairman Sadler:
Ques. What results have followed the operations at the Central Hospital?

Ans. I know that Dr. Drewry is as careful of his negroes as he would be of anybody else. I did not mean to say that he had been careles, for I do not believe he has been. I cannot tell of the results of the operations since I left there. These operations were performed by Dr. Price, of Philadelphia; Dr. Stuart McGuire and Dr. Bosher. I performed operations when I was there, but only in emergency cases.

stand aside, after having been on the stand for nearly three days.

Dr. P. T. Southall, second assistant physician, was then called to the stand. Dr. Southall then outlined his duties as physician to the male patients.

Bed Bugs.

Witness stated that when, two and a half year ago, he was transferred from the female to the male wards, he found bedbugs in the Montague building (male wards). He fought them hard, keeping them down in the winter, but in the spring the bedbugs got worse. Thoy were there in great numbers. Witness sald he had worked hard to exterminate the bugs and that he had made no con-cealment of conditions. Witness said that the construction of the Montague groove, with a space between the celling and the floor above. The walls, he said, are bad, the cement sides having cracks and holes, in which the bugs live. There have been very few bugs found this winter.

"I don't know what will happen this summer," said witness.

Witness stated that in his opinion and in the opinion of the attendants, it will be necessary to tear up the floors to rid the Montague building of bedbugs.

Dr. Southall said that the color of the walls in the Montague building were dull in color and dingy.

Ques. Have you ever had occasion to correct attendants for rough treatment of patients?

Ans. I have cautioned them. I remember Mr. Litzenberge, for striking a patient with a stick.

Ducked Patients.

Ducked Patients.

Ques. Have you ever had a patient ducked, or ducked one yourself?

Ans. Yes, I have.

Witness then described that a female patient had tried to stab an attendant with a pair of solssors, and that he had ordered her ducked in a bath tub. He said he ordered her pushed under the water in a bath tub twice, and that she remained quiet for several months afterwards.

Dr. Southall said that he thought he had a right to do as he thought proper in the treatment of his patients. He reported the matter to Dr. Foster and afterwards to Mr. Cole, of the special board, who approved of his act. The Board of Directors investigated the matter.

Witness said he never ducked a patient for punishment, but as treatment which he thought necessary.

Amends Statement.

After dinner Dr. Southall asked to amend his statement.

He said that the woman whom he ducked has strong hysterical tendency and that it was necessary to set up a will power.

He also said that in the male wards he had only green attendents, and it was almost impossible to make them fight the bedbugs. Dr. Southall said that he found the bedbugs in the Montague buffeling when he came to the male wards. Dr. Williams, he said, had preceded him. In answer to a question asked by Mr. Ould, witness said that he had ducked three patients, and that he acted for the best. He said he had not ducked a patient for a year or two. He said he had to use some force in ducking the patients. Colonel Lawless then desired to ask the witness a question as to what Mr. Cole, a member of the special board, had said regarding the bedbugs in the Montague building.

The chairman ruled that the question was not proper.

The chairman ruled that the question was not proper.

The chairman ruled that the question was not proper.

Dr. Southall then again told of the habit of bathing several patients in the same water. He said that the attendants told him that never more than three patients used the same water for a bath. Witness thought that it was not necessary to have a fresh bath for each patient. Witness said he thought too many patients slept in a room. He said there were no rooms for amusements or for reading and writing. He said that such rooms would be very beneficial to the patients.

He made his daily rounds twice a day, and once in about every ten days the superintendent accompanied him. No hedside consultations were held nor any conferences. Witness said he did not examine dead bodies. He supposed the superintendent attended to such matters. Senator Sadler:

Ques. Is there any way, then, to prevent an attendant from so ill using a patient that he died, and escaping detection because no examination is made of the dead bodies?

Witness said there had been two or three suicides on the male side since the Bell suicide. A man named Hall had hung himself in the bath-room with a short cord. A night watchman is now employed to watch the suicide ward. "The patients who get well quickest are the suicides," said Dr. Southall. Witness said he could see no necessity for night attendants except in the suicide wards. He could not express an opinion about the improvement of sanitary conditions by night attendants, because he had had no experience.

Dr. Southall then spoke of the suicide of Thomas Fallon and also of Bellifeld. All four suicides, he said, had taken place within two years. ONLY ALL-RAIL LINE TO MORFOLK. Bell Suicide.

Senator Sadler then read a certified copy of the proceedings held before the coroner's jury in the Bell suicide case, in which the statement was made that Bell came to his death through negligence of the hospital authorities.

The verdict read as follows;

"We further find from the evidence that neither the physician in charge, the ward attendants nor the night watchman were informed that the said R. E. Bell was a patient of suicidal tendency. From those facts it appears to the jury that a grave oversight has been committed by the authorities of the hospital in not giving such information and such instructions as would better protect a patient committed as one of marked suicidal tendency."

Dr. Southall then told of his removal as first assistant physician and of his being made second assistant physician—at first against his wishes, but inter with his consent. Dr. Southall then said that Mr. Clowes told him that he was reduced because of his rough talk to the members of the board. "I think there was no cause," said Dr. Southall.

In answer to a question as to why he had been on bad terms with the board, witness said: "Because I refused to unite in a persecuting of the Rev. Mr. Reberts, of this city."
